Web/UXI designer

Despre mine

Hi! You can call me an experienced and talented web designer, ready to create attractive and effective websites that meet the needs of customers and users. Creative thinking and the ability to work with various design tools such as Figma, Adobe Photoshop, and AI.

I know the basic principles of design and also understand how to create websites that are as responsive as possible to users' needs.

My experience includes the ability to communicate with clients to understand their requirements and goals and to translate that knowledge into functional and visually appealing designs.

Just want to be a professional who creates a quality and useful product that users can enjoy using it. Without unnecessary distracting, useless animation, noise, and attempts to deceive the user at my expense.

The design must be done with responsibility.
